Teams reading_{MF}

The Teams app aims to help teachers quickly assess students' fluency at reading through video and audio recordings.

The app lets teachers upload a single reading fluency passage for the whole class, or provide different passages to suit students at various reading levels. Students record what they read and send it to their teacher for review.

The study of Earth's landforms is called physical geography. Landforms can be mountains, rivers, and lakes. Landforms are physical features. It is important for students to know the physical geography of Earth.

The seasons, the amount of rainfall, and the location of mountains are factors that affect where people settle. All the natural processes of Earth affect geography. One of the natural processes of Earth is a combination of factors that affect where they want to live.

The physical features of a region are often rich in resources. Within a nation, mountain ranges become natural borders for settlement areas. In the U.S., major mountain ranges are the Sierra Nevada, the Rocky Mountains, and the Appalachians.

Fresh water sources also influence where people settle. People need water
